GIVING HIS AGE as "somewhere in the 70's", multi-millionaire Tutor Scherer poses with his third wife, the former LaVeeda M. Varley, 27, shortly after their marriage in Las Vegas, Nev. Here, the bride holds one of the wedding presents, a solid gold globe studded with gems. Mrs. Scherer also wears the $50,000 diamond necklace given her by her husband. About 4,000 guests attended the festivities.

Truman Holds Eisenhower's European Duties Won't Bar Him From Politics In 1952

Washington, (AP)—President Truman said yesterday that he doesn't think Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower's European duties will interfere if the general is in a political frame of mind in 1952.

A restrained and indirect discussion of the possibility that Eisenhower might be a 1952 presidential candidate—something the general won't comment on himself—dominated the weekly White House news conference.

Eisenhower is doing a magnificent job in Europe as head of the North Atlantic defense forces, Mr. Truman said, and he thought he would continue there as long as necessary.

The President declined to speculate on how long that might be. He said that under any conditions, Eisenhower would put duty to the country first.

On other matters, Mr. Truman said:

One, he plans to fly to San Francisco for the opening of the conference called for signing the Japanese peace treaty, September 4. Asked whether this would preclude any presidential "whistle stop" campaigning across the country this fall, the President replied it would at this particular time.

Two, this statement on wages, in his denunciation of the new controls law Tuesday night, speaks for itself. In that statement, Mr. Truman said that "to the extent that this act permits prices and the cost of living to rise, it will be necessary to allow reasonable adjustments in wages."

The Eisenhower question came up in the light of statements by Bernard M. Baruch and Senators Murray (D-Mont.) and Brewster (R-Me.). Murray, who wants Mr. Truman to run for re-election, and Brewster, who is generally regarded as a backer of Senator Taft of Ohio for the Republican nomination, have said they thought Eisenhower's job in Europe would keep him out of the presidential field next year.

Baugh, longtime adviser of presidents, said in New York yesterday that it would be "a great disservice to General Eisenhower to put him into the political arena."

Tax Controversy Involves Movies, Opera, Symphonies

Washington, (AP)—Do movies, or opera and symphonies, do the most to promote love of good music?

Tax-writing Senators found themselves in the role of jury yesterday on that question.

Spokesman for the Metropolitan opera and the New York Philharmonic were asking exemption for their organizations from the 20 per cent Federal tax on tickets of admission.

And Abraham F. Myers, an attorney for the movie industry, was there protesting that exemption would be "rank discrimination."

Myers said the movies have to bear the tax and he was against any inference that "motion pictures—the nation's basic entertainment—are less essential to the public interest than these specifically favored enterprises."

Furthermore, he contended, the movies have done as much or more than symphonies and operas to stimulate love for good music.

Vote For Price Bill

Washington, (AP)—Pennsylvania's two Republican Senators, Edward Martin and James H. Duff, yesterday voted for a bill designed to permit sellers to make good-faith price cuts to meet competition. The Senate passed the bill, 42 to 34, and sent it to the House.

Waxey Gordon Arrested On Dope Charge

Washington, (AP)—The Treasury announced last night that Irvin Wexler, better known as Waxey Gordon, was arrested in New York last night as a narcotic law violator. He was in possession of 17½ ounces of heroin, officials said.

The Treasury said the arrest was made by Federal narcotics agents in cooperation with New York police.

Another man, identified as Sammy Kass, was arrested at the same time. The Treasury identified him as "another notorious character."

The location of the arrest was not given.

Four automobiles were taken into custody at the same time as the arrests were made.

Wexler was picked up at 7:10 p. m.

An immediate report on the arrest was made to Secretary of the Treasury Snyder by the Federal commissioner of narcotics, Harry Anslinger.

In addition to the New York charges, Wexler also faces prosecution in the southern district of California on other narcotics charges.

The investigation into the New York dope traffic had been under way for the past eight months, the Treasury said.

The problem of narcotics addiction, especially among teen-agers, has been under close study by various agencies lately.

The Treasury said it was the third time Wexler had fallen into the hands of Treasury agents. The Treasury cited his record this way:

He was arrested in 1914 in connection with the shipment of two trunks containing 192 pounds of opium from New York to Duluth, Minn. He was tried and acquitted in this case.

In 1933 he was brought to trial by the Bureau of Internal Revenue intelligence unit on income tax charges. He was convicted and sentenced to ten years.

And, because his father was married to his mother, who also is his sister, his real father also is his brother-in-law.

In turn, Billy Jr.'s grandmother is his sister and his father is his brother.

Sen. McMahon Issues Dare To Kremlin

Washington, (AP)—Senator McMahons yesterday dared the Kremlin to let a congressional delegation visit the Soviet Union to tell the Russian people about the peaceful and friendly desires of the American people."

McMahon also suggested that in turn Congress invite the 14 members of the Soviet Politburo to this country "so they could breathe the clean air of democracy and decide for themselves whether the American people want war or peace."

In a Senate speech, McMahon proposed that Congress pass resolutions endorsing both trips but he did not indicate whether he plans to introduce such legislation.

McMahon noted that "under pressure by the British government, the Moscow newspaper Pravda actually printed this week an article by British Foreign Secretary Herbert Morrison in which he sharply criticized policies and practices of the Soviet government."

That incident had no precedent in the history of the Stalinist government, the Senator said. He added that it "may truly be hailed as the first real chink put in the iron curtain in 30 years."

"We believe that one of the best things you can do right now is to stress the preventative aspect to parents. If they'll just follow the simple rules of keeping their child from getting over-fatigued and keep them away from crowds and polluted swimming places, their chances of escaping unharmed are greatly increased," Teague said.

The reporter, Charles Saunders, covered his city hall beat yesterday. He said Morissette was not there. The Journal declared that Saunders would continue on the beat.

Saunders said he'd be glad to take a mental test, if the mayor would, too.

Morissette indicated that his indignation was aroused by an article Saunders wrote about a military police riot drill at Pine Camp. Saunders reported that the "rioters" had hollered "down" with Morissette.

Grange Opposes New Oleo Bills

Harrisburg, (AP)—The Pennsylvania State Grange yesterday ranged against two new bills introduced in the Legislature to permit the sale of colored oleomargarine in Pennsylvania.

J. K. Mahood, secretary of the Grange, said "our position is that any legislation legalizing the manufacture of yellow oleo in the State would be in violation of the pure food law of Pennsylvania. We are going to ask for a hearing on these bills."

The measures would permit the sale of colored oleo in packages containing not more than one pound and would be for home consumption only.

Other bills which would allow universal sale of colored oleo have been killed by the Senate and House Agriculture committees during the present session.

Suggests Concessions

Washington, (AP)—Mobilization Director Charles E. Wilson yesterday called for draft deferments and wage increases, if necessary, to help the machine tool industry crack its manpower bottleneck.

Photog Finds Way Out Of Wilderness

Promised Land — A Brooklyn, N. Y., man's love for wildlife photography led him to spend a very uncomfortable night in the Pike county wilderness near here Wednesday night after he became lost.

State police said Cesario Pierro, 55, who is camping with his family at Pickerel Point, Pike county, set out to photograph deer and was last seen about 5 p. m. Wednesday when he entered a wooded region.

When he failed to reappear yesterday morning, his family notified police. Mr. Pierro emerged from the woods about 1 p. m. yesterday, five miles from where he was last seen.

His Mother Doubles As His Sister

Lakeland, Fla. (AP)—Wait a minute, said the recruiting sergeant, your mother can't be your sister.

But she is, replied Joe Miller. Not only that, his son is his brother and his father is his brother-in-law.

Sgt. L. V. Evers said Miller, a barber and guitarist in a string band, explained it like this after signing enlistment papers:

A couple, Mr. and Mrs. L. S. Miller who live near here, adopted the girl who was to become Billy's mother. She married, gave birth to Billy and was divorced.

The Millers adopted Billy, making him his mother's brother. A few years ago Billy married, fathered Billy Joe Miller Jr., then was divorced. The Millers again came into the picture, adopted Billy Jr.

So, Billy Sr., is both father and brother to Billy Jr. He is son and brother to his mother, now Mrs. Viola Miller Cribbs of Jacksonville.

And, because his father was married to his mother, who also is his sister, his real father also is his brother-in-law.

Mayor, Reporter Question Each Other's Sanity

Ogdensburg, N. Y. (AP)—Mayor Ralph J. Morissette wants this northern New York city to prohibit newspapers from hiring reporters unless they pass a mental test.

The mayor asked the Common Council Wednesday night to enact a law, and he ordered an Ogdensburg Journal reporter not to enter the city hall again.

The council took no immediate action.

The reporter, Charles Saunders, was asked to leave the city hall beat yesterday. He said Morissette was not there. The Journal declared that Saunders would continue on the beat.

Saunders said he'd be glad to take a mental test, if the mayor would, too.

Morissette indicated that his indignation was aroused by an article Saunders wrote about a military police riot drill at Pine Camp. Saunders reported that the "rioters" had hollered "down" with Morissette.

Advance Housing Bill

Washington, (AP)—The House Banking committee last night approved a $1,700,000,000 bill to ease housing shortages in key defense areas. Only $200,000,000 of the money, however, would be in the form of outright grants and loans.

The remaining $1,500,000,000 would be in the form of authorized mortgage insurance.

Auditor General Weldon B. Heywood said yesterday there are sufficient funds available to pay rentals owed by the State to the General State authority.

State Treasurer Charles S. Barr listed figures to show that the interest payment on the soldiers' bonus due September 1 can be met.

In addition the two top fiscal officers agreed State employees' salaries can be paid from a $40 million stop-gap appropriation passed by the Legislature last month.

Stassen Undecided

Minneapolis (AP)—Harold E. Stassen said yesterday he will make up his mind in the next month or two whether to seek the Republican presidential nomination in 1952.

German-U.S. Relationship Suffers Jolt

Berlin, (AP)—German-American relations suffered a jolt yesterday when the West Berlin Parliament unanimously backed Mayor Ernst Reuter in his refusal to carry out an American order.

The flareup occurred over an order to Reuter to see that a Berlin court nullifies its action against Hans Kemritz, an admitted double agent who worked here for the Russians and Americans in the early days of the occupation.

In defiance of American directives, the court had assessed heavy damages against Kemritz in favor of a German widow who charged he lured her husband into arrest by the Russians. Her husband later died in Soviet captivity.

U. S. High Commissioner John J. McCloy sent orders to the court to nullify the verdict, with the provision that a mixed German-American committee would then get together and try to negotiate the whole case.

Reuter answered that he must refuse to give any directions to a court whose independence is guaranteed under a democratic constitution—a constitution approved by American occupation authorities.

In an address to the Parliament, the mayor said the German people had been deeply shaken by American action protecting Kemritz, who is now understood to be in U. S. protective custody to keep the Germans from arresting him.

The Congress posted a total of $100,000 in bond for the 39 aliens, all of whom face deportation proceedings because of alleged subversive or Communist connections.

The government moved briskly to rearrest the aliens, ordering them to turn themselves in by 3 p. m.—less than an hour after the decision was made public in Washington.

Some of the aliens made the deadline. A few were given a little more time for various reasons. Some could not be located in time to make the deadline and straggled in later.

The Congress has been labelled Communist and subversive by the attorney general's office.

Bonds totaling $260,000 were posted by the Congress for the 11 top leaders of the U. S. Communist party. They were convicted of conspiring to teach and advocate violent revolution.

Seven of them now are serving prison terms. But four never showed up, jumping $80,000 in Congress bail. They are Robert Thompson, Gus Hall, Gilbert Green and Henry Winston.

Girl Injured When Thrown From Auto

Lake Wallenpaupack — A 19-year-old girl was seriously injured on Route 503 three miles south of White Beauty View here shortly after midnight yesterday when she and a 24-year-old companion were thrown from their skidding car as it crashed into the side of a small bridge.

The girl, Theresa Brogenski, of Throop, suffered a skull fracture, facial lacerations, internal injuries and bruises and brush burns when she was catapulted from the over-turning car after it hit the bridge.

Miss Brogenski's escort, Wade D. Yount, 24, of Strattonville, Pa., who has a temporary address at the Hotel Plaza in Scranton, was also tossed from the crashing vehicle, but he was reported as less seriously injured, although he was hospitalized.

Dr. R. A. Christman, of Newfoundland, treated both occupants after passing motorists rushed the couple to his office. After emergency treatment, they were taken to Scranton State hospital where the girl's condition was described as "critical" early last night.

Yount's condition was reported as "not serious." His injuries included deep arm laceration, other cuts, possible internal injuries and shock.

Pfc. Joseph A. Wroblewski, who is investigating for Milford State police, said the car, a 1950 medium model, was registered in Yount's name. It was virtually demolished and appeared to be a $2,500 loss.

The machine was towed to a garage in Newfoundland early yesterday.

Measure Calls For Boosts In Judges' Salary

Judges Chester H. Rhodes, president of Pennsylvania's Superior court, and President Judge Fred W. Davis of Monroe-Pike Judicial district would receive 15 per cent salary increases under a bill now in position for final passage by the Senate next week.

Judge Rhodes, as president of Superior court, would have his salary increased from $21,500 to $24,000. Associate judges would be increased from $21,000 to $23,500.

In the case of Judge Davis, whose district is classified in a bracket with population less than 65,000, the salary would be increased from $11,000 to $12,650.

The measure is sponsored by Sen. John H. Meade (R-Philadelphia). It places a top of $2,500 on salary increases.

The bill gained approval of the Judiciary General committee this week after being amended. Originally it called for a $4,000 pay increase.

Crowe Predicts Death Of Controversial Tax Program In State Senate Next Week

Still adamant in their opposition to Gov. John S. Fine's proposed one-half of one per cent income tax, a sales or mercantile tax, 11 Republican senators called for a show-down on the tax measure before adjournment this week in a maneuver which is expected to kill the proposal either in committee or on the floor of the Senate.

Senator Montgomery F. Crowe (R., Monroe), said yesterday on his return from Harrisburg that the measure will come up for vote in the Finance committee of the Senate next week.

Judge Rhodes, as president of the Finance committee, would have his salary increased from $21,500 to $24,000. Associate judges would be increased from $21,000 to $23,500.

The measure is sponsored by Sen. John H. Meade (R-Philadelphia). It places a top of $2,500 on salary increases.

The bill gained approval of the Judiciary General committee this week after being amended. Originally it called for a $4,000 pay increase.

Because of the possibility their attendance would be misinterpreted, the five senators, Crowe, Wade of Cumberland, McPherson, Adams; Snowden, Lycoming, and Diehle, Lancaster, hastened to call a full meeting of the 11 senators, including the six not invited, and assure them they remained solidly against the Governor's tax proposal.

They adopted a formal statement to that effect, transmitted it to Senator Taylor with a request that the prolonged endeavors to get

10 Years Ago These Days -- By George E. Sokolsky

10 Years Ago

Company G—Lieut. John G. Rau, commander of Company G, 109th Infantry, is making plans for a migration of Monroe County citizens to Indian Gap. Company G baseball team defeated the 109th regimental team 9-4. Sergeant Drexel Ace and Private Robert Schoonover pitched for the local boys and Sergeant William Schoonover was catcher. Sergeant Horatio Haas, Jr., hit a home run. The players included Joseph Ryan, Robert Urban, James Daily, William Baird, Ralph Turn and Nelson Berger.

C-E Camp—These local people are among the leaders of Christian Endeavor at Camp Waygad: Rev. R. H. White, Delaware Water Gap; Mrs. E. C. Steinhardt and Dr. Charlotte Jordan, Stroudsburg.

Walnut Room—The new walnut room at the Bartonsville Hotel has been formally opened. C. J. Neyhart operates the hotel.

20 Years Ago

Atlantic City—Mrs. C. H. Hartman and daughter, Kathryn, and Miss Mary Kistler, of East Stroudsburg, left for Atlantic City to join Miss Beatrice Hartman.

On Flying Boat—Mrs. Clara Adams, of Tannersville, is flying from Rio de Janeiro to New York on a flying boat, a giant seaplane. She is one of 11 passengers.

Wins Car—Mrs. John C. Glasson, North Fifth Street, was awarded a Willys Roadster by the Sherman chain of theatres.

Carnival—The two fire companies of Stroudsburg expect a big turnout at carnival starting tomorrow.

Try And Stop Me

By Bennett Cerf

Harry C. Kelley, who called himself "The Virginia Judge," was forced to patronize a fourth-rate eating house one day because it was the only one in town. The waiter watched him toying with his consonance and finally ventured, "How's the soup?" Kelley answered mournfully, "I'm sorry I stirred it."

A book that comes all the way from Tel-Aviv is called "Israel Laughs." It quotes Rabbi Stephen Wise as saying, "The only thing two Jews will agree upon is how much a third Jew should give to charity." It also tells of an official reception in the Israeli embassy where two dignitaries were introduced as "Colonel Shulamith," formerly Edelstein, and "Mayor Hedera, formerly Kossofsky." "Hmn," mused the third. "We already have a book called 'Israel Laughs.' Now we need one called 'Who Was Who'!"

Hollywood

By Gena Handsaker

Hollywood—Here's a free idea for a movie: How about an industry-wide collection of famous scenes—with a commentary connecting and introducing them?

As a starter, here are a few nominations: Colbert hoisting her skirt to stop a passing motorist . . . and Gable hanging up the "walls of Jericho" blanket—in "It Happened One Night" . . . Macall telling Bogart in "To Have and Have Not"; "If you want anything, just whistle" . . . Gable telling Vivien Leigh off at the end of "Gone with the Wind":

Louise Rainer's tearful, Oscar-winning close-up on the telephone in "The Great Ziegfeld." Divorced from him, she has hoped for a reconciliation; now he calls to tell her of his remarriage.

The earthquake in "San Francisco" . . . Lew Ayres reaching for a butterfly at the end of "All Quiet on the Western Front" . . . Al Jolson singing "Sonny Boy" and "Mammy" in "The Jazz Singer" . . . Charles Laughton belching "Mr. Christian" in "Mutiny on the Bounty" . . .

"The Thing should include memorable scenes from the old-timers, too: Chaplin's table ballet with two French rolls on forks . . . his boiled-shoe dinner . . . and his cabin teetering on the edge of a precipice in "The Gold Rush" . . . The chariot race in "Ben Hur" . . . Mummy Boris Karloff coming to life in "The Mummy" . . . Harold Lloyd clinging to a tower clock, high above a street, in "Safety Last" . . . King Kong's monstrous gorilla, climbing the Empire State Building.

Lon Chaney Sr.'s mask coming off in "The Phantom of the Opera" . . . Chaney pouring molten lead down on the mob in "The Hunchback of Notre Dame" . . . The Red Sea divided in "The Ten Commandments" . . . Battles in "The Birth of a Nation" . . .

Other sound scenes come to mind: Ingrid Bergman, as a nun, teaching the boy to play baseball in "The Bells of St. Mary's" . . .

Ethel Waters Wins Award At Tamiment

Camp Tamiment — More than a thousand vacationers saw Actress Ethel Waters receive the Tamiment Institute award here last night for her best-selling autobiography, "His Eye Is On The Sparrow."

The annual award — a scroll and a check for $500 — was presented to Miss Waters during a concert at Tamiment playhouse.

Miss Waters described her book, written with Charles Samuels, as "a record of my life as God planned it."

"I am glad that friends have accepted it that way and found the better side of it despite its down-to-earth form of expression," she said.

The award was presented by Louis Waldman, New York attorney and author and a member of Tamiment's board of directors.

"The story of her life is an inspiration and a challenge to all Americans," he said, adding that Miss Waters "refutes all who would argue that there is no longer opportunity in the United States."

"Her accomplishments," Waldman said, "prove that every American, regardless of the circumstances into which he was born, has an opportunity to rise if he has the talent and ability to do so."

Ben Josephson, camp director, presided at the award ceremonies.

Crime Probers Subpoena 7 Scranton Men

Scranton (P)—The U. S. Crime Investigating committee, checking gambling conditions in Lackawanna and Luzerne counties, yesterday subpoenaed two Scranton police captains, a Scranton constable, and the district attorney of Lackawanna county, to appear as witnesses at a hearing in Washington next Tuesday.

Three other Scranton men were also subpoenaed to appear at the hearings.

Police Captains Richard Beynon and James Canaboy were served subpoenas as was Joseph Baldassari, who figured in a number of police cases.

Later in the day, Federal authorities announced that three more Scranton men will be required to appear at the hearings. They are Constable David Haggerty, Thomas Sesso, and Albert Baldassari, brother of Joseph.

A subpoena was issued for Lackawanna County District Attorney Carlton M. O'Malley, but he was out of town and is not expected back until today.

The weatherman said today would be warmer, partly cloudy and more humid, but there was no indication whether Monday and Tuesday's sweltering heat would be duplicated.

Corporal Who's Been Eating 50-Cent Steaks In Germany On Furlough At Swiftwater

Swiftwater—Steak dinners costing $4 to $5 are a shock to Cpl. Carl A. Nauman, of Woodland Road—he's been buying them in Germany for 50 cents.

Corporal Nauman, on reenlistment furlough after nearly three years in Europe, is staying with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Grant Nauman.

As a 508th Engineer depot truck driver at Hanau, Germany, Nauman had a personal interest in Hitler's much-publicized highway network. With the exception of several of the main arteries, the corporal describes the roads as "not so good." Much of the travel in Germany, he reports, is by bicycle, but bomb-wrecked cities are gradually rebuilding and the farmlands and countryside are pleasant.

Corporal Nauman enlisted in July, 1948, took basic training at Fort Dix and Camp Kilmer, both in New Jersey, and Fort Benning, Ga. He went overseas in November of the same year, saw parts of France and Austria while stationed in Germany.

Just before discharge, Corporal Nauman reenlisted for six years. When his three-month furlough is up in October, he will report to Camp Kilmer for reassignment.

Board Names E. C. Jenkins As Director

Long and actively associated with the Inn at Buck Hill Falls, Edward C. Jenkins, secretary and treasurer of the Buck Hill Falls Co., was elected a director of the company to fill the vacancy created by the recent death of his father, Charles F. Jenkins, according to an announcement by the board of directors following their meeting on July 28.

With the company since 1932 when he began as the director of the sales promotion, publicity and advertising programs, Mr. Jenkins was made secretary in 1939 and treasurer in 1943. Besides filling these positions, he purchases all printing and paper supplies, books all entertainments, and has full charge of the auditorium in addition to routine corporate affairs.

From 1932, through 1949, he edited The Buck Hill Breeze, a weekly newspaper covering Buck Hill news and coming events; and since 1938 he has been secretary-treasurer of the Buck Hill Water Co.

As president of the Buck Hill Art association, he selects and arranges art exhibitions, directs the preparation of an annual presentation print by one or another outstanding American artist, obtains instructors for art classes, and books informative and entertaining lecturers.

One of the strongest forces in Pocono Mountain publicity and advertising for many years, the new director was the founder and manager of the Pocono Mountains Vacation bureau, of which he is now the president.

The bureau represents the combined efforts of leading Pocono Mountain resorts and business to bring to the fore their area as a Pennsylvania vacationland.

Always giving generously of his time and efforts to community welfare activities, Mr. Jenkins was elected to the Board of Directors of the General Hospital of Monroe county in 1933 and has filled the office of vice president of the board since 1949.

Chief among his other activities are his membership in the Pennsylvania and Monroe County Historical societies, his position as president of the Barrett Township Educational fund, director of the Barrett Welfare fund, and his membership in Rotary, of which he is the immediate past president of the Pocono Mountains club.

Edinger-Wyckoff, Inc., Stroudsburg, specialists in manufacture of self-selector floor fixtures for stores, has issued a new catalogue picturing and describing its line.

The Edinger-Wyckoff concern, operating off North Fifth St. works with a number of leading manufacturers and architects in meeting the demands of merchants for self-selector as well as standard sales cases.

Among the well-known manufacturers now displaying and selling the firm's fixtures are Cluett, Peabody & Co., Inc., I. B. Kleinart Rubber Co., and Simtex Mills.

The new catalogue pictures and describes "how better merchandising by effective display equals more sales for any store." Some 20 distinctly different fixtures which actually put more merchandise in view with resulting more sales to the consumer are illustrated.

An aisle traffic table designed to replace the old flat-top is among models shown. Standard type retail fixtures, including wall cases, show cases, cash wrap units and some actual store interiors.

Edinger-Wyckoff, Inc., although comparatively new in the fields of store fixture construction, has a substantial background of experience.

Williams S. Wyckoff, president, is actively engaged in department store field with A. B. Wyckoff, Inc., Stroudsburg. Paul L. Edinger, partner, has 25 years of actual contracting experience both in the building of commercial structures as well as in home design. Their backgrounds blend and fit both for complete store fixturing and specialized work.

Small retailers in this region, especially restaurant operators not affiliated with various trade associations will be able to use a new business advisory service for industry and trade groups for assistance on Office of Price Stabilization regulations.

Paul B. Hartenstein, Philadelphia District Office of Price Stabilization director, said here yesterday that to meet specifications of the law Congress has just passed, many orders will have to be fairly complex.

In some instances basic concepts of stabilization policies already in effect will have to be changed. In others, amendments to existing regulations will be issued.

Hartenstein said small retailers, restaurants and others not receiving interpretive aid through affiliations with trade groups may use the new advisory service located

Search Under Way For Two Men Who Stole $2,800 From Inn, Fled In Station Wagon

Mount Pocono — A new station wagon stolen from Pocono Manor inn shortly before daylight Tuesday, has been recovered undamaged, but two inn employees who allegedly stole $2,800 before leaving in the new vehicle, are still at large.

Mount Pocono State police said yesterday that the station wagon was found abandoned in Pittston where the missing employees apparently switched to another vehicle or other means of travel.

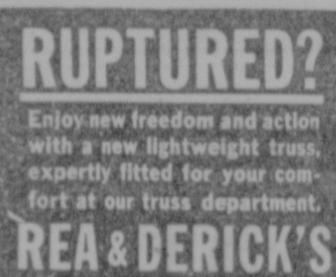

The investigation was launched early Tuesday afternoon auditors, reporting for duty after the breakfast hour, found that the $2,800 sum had been taken from desk drawer in the hotel office.

Fingerprints found on the abandoned station wagon were said to have matched those of two employees also missing from the inn since 4 a. m. Tuesday, the time at which it is believed the thieves entered the hotel office and rifled the desk.

Both the money and the vehicle belonged to the resort.

According to Pfc. James Horan, who is heading the investigation, the two employees were members of the kitchen staff and had been in the hotel's employ only a short time. Investigation has disclosed that both had previous criminal records.

After the cash, described as part of the inn's weekly payroll, was missed by the auditors, Mount Pocono State police were called and Lynn Lantz and Mrs. Russell Cramer were in charge on Wednesday; Mrs. Fred Davis and Mrs. Elia Travis, on Thursday; and Mrs. George Marsh and Miss Ellen Hoffman will be in charge of the cafeteria today.

The Girl Scouts have also done their share in making the show a success by manning the ice cream and soda booth in the basement. On Wednesday, members of Mrs. Harry Heller's troop assisted including Riva Heller, Nancy Westbrook, Elizabeth Knerim, Pearl Barlieb, Jean Poorstrum, Peggy Vot.

On Thursday it was the turn of Joan Smith, Kay Lesoine, Barbara Vogt, Mary Lou Ace, Marianne Neyhart and Suzanne Dimmick.

Today it will be the duty of Mrs. J. L. Cohen's troop and the workers will include Kay Vogt, Jean Douglas, Mary Jane Hintze, Ethel Lynne Werkheiser, Mary Beth Knepp, Connie Sandt, Jackie Torillo, Carol Jordan, Catherine Clark, and Jane Layton.

Proceeds from the show of which Mrs. Gilbert Barthold is manager will be used for the auxiliary's hospital fund. Mrs. George Hauser, president of the auxiliary, has served as general chairman of the auxiliary's share in the show.

After the baked ham supper with each family adding picnics, Mr. Bradburn presented prizes to Mr. and Mrs. Lawton Clapper, who had been married the longest and to Mr. and Mrs. Robert Beards, most recent newlyweds; to Rose Walter, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Elwood Walter, who was the youngest child and to Mrs. Kathryn Rech, of Scranton, mother of Mrs. Paul Crawn, who was the oldest person present. Raoul Longworth, who had come from Buffalo, N.Y., for the picnic won the prize for the son coming the furthest distance.

And you know what Betty Peterson thought up for a centerpiece? A tiny white baby's comode to hold the bouquet of sweetpeas, if you please, but very appropriate for a stork shower.

Dishwasher Object Of Police Hunt

Stroudsburg State police yesterday were seeking Arthur Bloumer, 25-year-old dishwasher at the Blue Ridge Inn in Middle Smithfield township.

Bloumer disappeared after a car owned by his employer, Charles Theodore, operator of the resort, was found wrecked on a township road a half mile from the hotel.

Theodore told police he had given Bloumer the keys to his car and told him to have it washed. Later the vehicle was reported stolen and then found against a tree on township road 550.

Police learned yesterday that Bloumer "hitched" a ride after the incident. It was also reported that Theodore would prefer charges against the missing dishwasher.

Tigers Blank Yankees On Cain's Relief

New York (AP) — A brilliant relief pitching effort by Bob Cain preserved a shutout for the Detroit Tigers and starter Hal White yesterday as the Bengals defeated the New York Yankees, 6-0. The loss cut the Yanks' first-place edge over Boston's Red Sox and Cleveland's Indians.

The shutout yesterday came on the anniversary of White's two-hit blanking of the Yankees, exactly a year ago. The little righthander permitted them only three singles this afternoon. Joe Collins got the third one, a rap to right field, at the start of the seventh and White lost control and walked Gil McDougald and Yogi Berra. He pitched two more balls, both high, to Johnny Hopp and then gave way to Cain.

First Loss

The Tigers banded starter Art Schalock and Frank Shea for ten hits, scoring twice in the second inning and four times in the eighth. Three of the tallies in the latter frame were unearned because of errors by shortstop Martin.

Schallock, who was purchased from the Hollywood club of the Pacific Coast League July 12 for $50,000, was charged with his first loss.

The Yankees had a terrible time trying to connect with White's soft stuff.

Shea gave up five hits and walked one man as the Tigers clinched it with their four runs burst in the eighth.

Posting his first triumph since June 19, Rush stopped the Giants without a hit from the start of the third until Monte Irvin opened the ninth with a triple.

Red Sox Sweep Bargain Bill From Browns

BOSTON, (AP)—The Boston Red Sox regained some of their lost ground in the American League's blistering pennant race yesterday with a 12-1 and 11-6 doubleheader sweep over the lowly but aroused St. Louis Browns.

Ray Scarborough kept the Browns' eight hits well scattered during the opener. But they became savage in the seventh inning while scoring all of their nightcap's runs.

When the Red Sox came to bat in the bottom of that frame, their margin had been whittled to 7-6 as Satchel Paige took over the St. Louis mound.

Paige, whose "hesitation pitch" arouses Boston Manager Steve O'Neill's ire, filled the bases by passing Clyde Vollmer and Lou Boudreau after Billy Goodman had singled with none out.

Protest

Thereupon O'Neill resumed his protests about Satch's alleged illegal motion and when they were disregarded, the Sox pilot called upon Charlie Maxwell to bat for Bill Wight, the third of Boston's second-game pitching quartet.

Maxwell, who had bashed two previous pinch-hit homers, then lashed a grand-slammer into the right centerfield bleachers to sew up the game and return his forces into second place, only a game back of the New York Yankees.

A surprisingly large turnout of 23,005 saw the Red Sox resume their powerhouse tactics by clouting 14 hits in each game.
